The crisis is very severely felt here. The banks will not lend money except at a very high rate of interest and amortization.

A NEW FINANCIAL PROGRAMME.

We regret to say that we do not refer to any new financial departure in the government policy, to any attempt to oblige the free banks to convert their notes, to any radical measure to eradicate out of this fair soil the upas growth of state banking: no, we merely refer to a complicated programme proposed by an outsider in the columns of a leading morning colleague. There are some good points in the programme, especially those referring to the liquidation of the free banks, but there is much that is diffuse and unnecessary. The following is the proposition:—

1st—Create a bank with foreign and native gold capital to convert the paper-money in gradual stages to be fixed by Government. These gradual stages imply the fixing of a certain value to the paper dollar at the leisure of the Government. This bank to be started under the ægis of European bankers after a formal declaration from the boards of the free banks in the country that they are unable to return to specie payments, at least at any short notice. These free banks then to continue working as general banks whose issue of paper shall be converted by the new bank; they may also go into liquidation or work as simple banks of deposit and discounts, without paper issue.

2nd—The National Bank may enter as a factor in this combination, but must liquidate its accounts separately; it may also indemnify its shareholders and become amalgamated.

3rd—The support of the provincial bank of Buenos Ayres, the great savings bank of the nation, must be sought in the combination.

4th—In this laudable effort to appreciate the paper money by stages until par value is reached the National Government must join by inspiring economic habits among the people, by fostering co-operative institutions, by creating fresh capital in the country, by attacking extravagance, gambling, and dissipation, by fostering labor, and finally by pledging itself.

1.—Not to increase the budget,
2.—to reduce the home and foreign debt,
3.—not to issue any more Cedulas, neither national nor provincial,
4. Not to guarantee any more railways for the next five years.

The above is the sum and substance of the latest financial panacea, but what a roundabout way to get at conversion. Our plan is much simpler; it reduces itself to a few strokes of the pen and a law of Congress ordering all banks of issue in this country to convert their notes, say on the 1st of January, 1893, or go into liquidation. Nothing could be shorter or simpler, and the saddle is on the right horse. At the same time a summary law might be passed putting an end for ever and a day to the issue of cedulas from state establishments, and the financial movement might be crowned by an Act putting an end to the existence of State banking in the Argentine Republic, a consummation to take place, say on the 25th of May, 1894; posterity would record the event and commemorate our financial declaration of independence on a par with the sundering of the political shackles that chained the country to the despotism of Spain.

THE CITY IMPROVEMENT TAX.

In our last issue we summarized the Government decree on the City Improvement Works' tax for the water supply, sewage and drainage, but owing to the vital importance of the matter and the magnitude of the interests affected, we shall append the original documents, that every house-holder and tenant may study the report and decree and form an idea of the exact situation. The Committee, named by the Government to fix the quota or tax payable in every instance, sent in the following document to the Minister of the Interior:—

M. le Ministre—

We, the undersigned, appointed in Committee by the National Government and Lessees of the City Improvement Works to fix the final tariff for the service of water supply, sewage and drainage, have the honour of submitting to your consideration the following general regulations. We have borne in mind the report of the first committee appointed by the Government and the objections raised by the lessees of the Works, and we have arrived at the following settlement:—

1st—That with regard to the final tariff which will be levied after the completion of the works and the complete service in every house, the ratio for each service being 3 for water, 2 for sewage, and 1 for drainage, comprising the Boca and Barracas, all houses within the perimetre of the Works must be registered.

2nd.—Under the classification house is understood—

(a) Every shop with entre-sol for family not communicating through shop.
(b) Every shop with cellar, family rooms, etc., in connection with the business and accessible through the shop door.
(c) Every storey of a house devoted to offices.
(d) Every house occupied by one tenant and devoted to one business.
(e) Every independent department in tenement buildings.
(f) The "conventillos" or tenement holdings that have only one door or egress, and every shop in them facing the street.
(g) One-story houses with one door only to the street; every independent and completely separated department in their interior.
(h) In "conventillos" or tenement buildings of several stories, every story occupied by a family.
(i) Every house occupied by one family, no matter how many stories high nor how many street doors the house may contain besides the principal entrance.

3rd.—Whereas the law determines that all houses within the radius of the works must pay the service, no exception is made in favor of unoccupied houses.

4th.—That a tariff be fixed with a minimum charge of a dollar and a maximum of twelve dollars per house, the proportion to be fixed according to the amount of rent divided into twelve categories for comparison.

5th.—That houses that make a business out of the water supply, or use it in industries pay at the rate of eight cents per thousand litres.

6th.—That the same regulations apply to the service of houses outside the radius of the works. (This claim has been thrown out by the Government.)

7th.—Once the products of the above two classifications are known, let a reduction be made in the general tariff levied on the other houses, till the returns of the tax are reduced to an amount sufficient to cover the expenses, interests and sinking funds of the company, according to the amount of capital that the Government sees fit to recognise. This committee cannot anticipate the results of such a calculation, as it has no basis to work on; but the Government inspector can effect this after the first quarter, since the law authorises the executive's intervention in the fixing of the yearly tariff of charges.

In order to fix the quotas for the service of the works, the committee has consulted the registry of the lessees in every detail, and the totals of the registry made by the previous committee, as the detailed statements were wanting.

We have registered 71,254 houses and have calculated their monthly rent at an average of $178; the lessees calculate 37,248 houses, including Boca and Barracas, and an average monthly rent of $140 per house. As the calculation of rent by the lessees is less than that of the committee, we have accepted the figures of the lessees, being more favorable.

The 16 previous classifications have been reduced to 12, and the average charge of $6 for same we have distributed as follows:

No. of houses	Rent	Tax	Total
	$	$	$
3067	up to 40	1	3067
5082	41 to 60	2	10,164
4946	61 to 80	3.50	17,911
5343	81 to 100	4.75	25,379
2936	101 to 120	5.75	16,881
4227	121 to 150	6.75	28,532
2242	151 to 180	7.75	17,315
2256	181 to 200	8.75	24,999
2014	201 to 250	9.75	19,387
1751	251 to 300	10.75	18,823
565	301 to 350	11.75	9,638
2219	350 & above	12.00	26,628
37,248			216,425

This classification comprises 597 stables and coach houses, 69 breweries, liquor soda, and ice batteries, 17 tramway and railway stations, nine washing and bathing houses, 734 sundry factories; 639 hotels and restaurants; total 1565. There are also 1271 unbuilt sites, 785 buildings in construction, and 318 public offices. The 37,248 houses calculated at an average of 6 dollars tax, leave a deficit of only 7063 dollars, an amount that would be more than covered by the new departure of measuring the consumption of water in industrial and other establishments and charging accordingly.

Owing to the difficulty of making an exact division to equitably distribute the charge of 6 dollars per house, we have in nearly all the quotas made fractions of dollars, thus facilitating the task of successive reduction in the charges, a process that must be proportional with the increased proceeds deem special services and growth of the works.

In the belief of having fulfilled our task in harmony with the interests of the citizens and in strict accordance with Y.E's, instructions and the respective contract, we have the honor, etc.

F. Seeber, M. G. Fernandez,
M. Dorqui, B. Basualdo.

DECREE OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 15th, 1890.

In view of the above report, and considering—

1° That the report is signed by all the members of the committee.
2° That all the conclusions, except the 6th, are in harmony with the views of the Executive.
3° That the proposed tariff consults the interests of the citizens and those of the company; that the committee have followed the instructions of the Minister of Interior to the effect that an equitable distribution of the tariff should be made between the expenses of one dollar and twelve dollars for the three services.
4° That whatever difficulties the practical working of the tariff may give rise to, these can be remedied by ulterior measures in the interest of the public.

The President of the Republic

DECREES—

Art. 1.—Let all the resolutions in the above report be accepted, except the 6th, which deals with works outside the radius fixed by the law and not included in the lease contract.

Art. 2.—Let this be communicated and published, and let the Central Office and the Company especially be informed that, in accordance with decree of 16th November, the "boletines" or dockets must be revised in a given time and in a certain form.

INFLUENZA.

Advices from Europe announce that the epidemic of influenza has broken out amongst the horses in Austria and Hungary. This does not surprise us, as we know of similar cases here. In fact, we may say that the epidemic of influenza which has swept over Europe began on the banks of the Rio Negro, on the estancia of an English gentleman. About four months ago he was attacked with influenza, and soon his family, his servants and his peones caught the contagion. The malady assumed such serious and alarming proportions that a doctor had to be called in. But this is not all. No sooner had the estanciero and the people of the estancia recovered, than the cows began to cough, the horses to sneeze, and all the sheep, to the number of several thousand, were laid up with very bad colds. Such a distressful state of affairs roused the attention and curiosity of the neighbors, but whether one of them wrote to the Czar or to some person in Russia we cannot say for certain. The fact, however, is perfectly proved that the contagion can be transmitted by letter. Of this we we shall give an instance. Adjoining the estancia already mentioned lies another estate, in which a year ago an English lady was staying with her family. This lady returned with her children to B. Ayres and caught a severe cold. A letter was in due time received at the estancia, announcing the arrival and the cold. And here comes the strange feature of this case, for the next morning every person in that estancia-house got up with so bad a cold that the breakfast-table was deserted, the carriage and horses forgotten, all the charms of the camp discarded, and the principal occupation was, for a week afterwards, coughing, sneezing, and the imbibing of chlorodyne and cough-mixtures.

The report, therefore, of the European doctors that the influenza plague had been propagated through the post, although very astonishing, is not without a precedent. As for influenza amongst cattle, we have just mentioned an instance that shews that we were somewhat in advance of Europe, and we are convinced that we must have sent home our influenza with our Cedulas, and both have proved plagues.

The disease must have been of a very violent character when it laid low so many thousands of people in the old countries, and, like the Grim Mower, made no distinctions, placing rich and poor, young and old, ministers, generals and asses and horses all on the same level.

The following are the very latest advices from Europe about the epidemic:—

Vienna, Dec. 15.

The epidemic of influenza is said to be attacking horses, in both Austria and Hungary. On the other hand, an abatement of the illness is reported so far as human beings are concerned. The epidemic has almost disappeared from the General Hospital here, where 161 cases in all have been registered.

Berlin, Dec. 15.

It is estimated that more than 150,000 persons in Berlin are at present affected, more or less, with what is vaguely called the epidemic of influenza, or "grippe," and that the number is still increasing. In view of these facts, a committee of prominent medical men and others has been formed for the purpose of collecting statistics relating to the prevailing ailment. According to Professor Leyden, one of the most popular physicians in Berlin, more than a third of the inhabitants of this city are suffering from it, and a writer in the Klinische Wochenschrift admits that the breaking out of the influenza plague, such as it is in Berlin, can no longer be denied. But such epidemics, he adds, have long been known to medical men, the first recorded case dating from the year 1172. The authorities, he says, are by no means at one as to the immediate cause of this influenza, though Seifert, of Würzburg, the latest investigator of the problem, inclined to the belief that the malady was due to microbes.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14th.

The medical council of the police prefecture of St. Petersburg has officially declared its opinion upon the influenza, which is that it can have no connexion with cholera, as the microbe organisms of one disease cannot be so transformed as to produce another disease, and that it is also not influenced by insanitary conditions, although the council thinks it an opportune moment to provide for the sanitation of the city.

Paris, Dec. 14th.

The wives of the Ministers MM. de Freycinet, Constans, Tirard, and Yves-Guyot have been attacked by the influenza epidemic. A great number employed in the public offices are suffering from the same malady.

Madrid, Dec. 14th.

Further cases of influenza are reported in Madrid to-day.

Paris, Dec. 12th.

The influenza epidemic continues to be the general subject of conversation. Some medical men to whom I have spoken on the subject believe that it is a microbe disease, and that it is simply caught by breathing. They think that, at present, the epidemic is without danger. They hold at the same time that those who have had an attack must, on recovery, be prudent, and not expose themselves to too rapid changes of temperature. They must breathe as much as possible without opening the mouth. The use of medicated water is also recommended, and its evaporation in the house. The patient while keeping his bed should not be made too hot.

In the meantime the employés at the Magasins du Louvre are suffering seriously. Numerous observations seem to prove that the air in the Magasins is seriously impregnated with influenza microbes, for it has been shown that the epidemic has attacked a number of persons who were only a very short time in the shops. Unfortunately for this establishment, the outbreak has occurred at the time of year when business is most active. The diminution thus produced in the amount of the sales is to be reckoned by tens of millions of francs.

London, Dec. 16th.

The marked characteristics of the Russian complaint have not as yet been noticeable in the influenza attacks in London. The two most prominent symptoms in the Russian ailment are high temperature and great frontal headache, accompanied in many cases by pain in the eyeballs, in all by a foul tongue and breath, and general "malaise." The onset is rapid, the temperature running up at once to 39 deg. or 40 deg. C., or even higher; but the pulse is not in all cases raised proportionately with the temperature. In some cases the symptoms of catarrh of the nose and frontal sinuses are added; in others sore throat and catarrh of the deeper air-passages; in some gastro-intestinal catarrh is a prominent symptom; and in many there are vague rheumatic pains about the back shoulders, and limbs. The duration is short, averaging from three to five days, sometimes prolonged to six or eight days or even longer, and convalescence is rapid. The miasm has been spread after weather exceptionally mild and prolonged, so Dr. Frank G Clemow, of St. Petersburg, reports to the British Medical Journal. It is authoritatively stated that the prevalence of the disease in the human race has always been coincident with the prevalence of a similar disease among domestic animals—dogs, cats, cows, and especially horses. In the horse it begins suddenly with sneezing, followed by rigors, fever, bronchitis, and a short dry cough. Some horse-owners of London have reported the occurrence of some illness among their animals, but it is not extensive. The identity of this specific influenza of the horse with the disease of the same name among mankind cannot be affirmed by medical authorities; but the probability that the disease is the same is held to be very great.

THE LONDON MONEY-MARKET

SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT

The large withdrawal of gold from the Bank referred to below, exercised little influence upon the Money Market, which, as regards quotations, is practically the same as yesterday except in the case of loans till to-morrow, the rate for which suddenly hardened this afternoon, some transactions being effected at 2½ per cent. owing to rumours that the Bank of England was borrowing on stock. It is possible that if the gold withdrawals continue the locking up of a portion of large balances now controlled by the market would harden rates materially. The discount rates are reported as a shade harder in some quarters, but are not actually quoted higher. A general impression prevails, that, very often, when gold is withdrawn from the Bank ostensibly for Lisbon, the destination is really the River Plate. We are quite sure that this suspicion is well founded, but we have satisfied ourselves that the withdrawals made to-day are intended to be sent to the destinations officially announced for them. This fact, however, only increases the probability that more gold will shortly have to be taken for Buenos Ayres, as to-day only a moderate quantity was taken for that quarter, where the state of things is critical, as will be seen from the observations we make below. The German demand for gold is as strong as ever, but the Berlin exchange is still appreciably above the point at which sovereigns could be profitably withdrawn from the Bank. The amount of gold afloat for London does not much exceed £100,000, and apart from the possibility that gold may once more be brought here independently of the state of the exchanges, the Bank can only rely for additions to its reserve on such amounts of coin as may be sent back from the country. Altogether the present extreme ease of the Money Market is not likely to last, for even the large supply under the control of the open market will not be sufficient to neutralize the effect on people's minds of a great reduction in the Bank's stock of bullion.

The last mail from Buenos Ayres announces that 14 brokers had failed on the Bourse, dragging down others with them. Two failures of magnitude have occurred, one for 4,000,000 dollars, and it is by no means a satisfactory feature, though not a surprising one, that the houses which have been able to pile up these large liabilities are very little known here, even by persons acquainted with Argentine business. Naturally the best firms have been more cautious than their newer rivals, to whom the wild speculation fostered by unlimited paper issues presented tempting chances of making money. Altogether it is plain that, as we observed in Monday's article, the difficulties which have been seen to be impending for a long time are at length assuming an acute form. This being the case, European banking houses whose names carry sufficient influence to induce a number of investors to support new issues which they may make are not justified in using that influence for the purpose of prolonging the existence of a position which is evidently unsound. A new loan for the Argentine Republic is talked of. If such be in actual preparation for issue upon this market, it can be for no other purpose than to assist people in that Republic to tide over a period of difficulty which is due directly to their own reckless speculation, and the question to be considered by lenders here is—ought they again so soon to be asked to come to the relief of gamblers who have already been far too much encouraged to engage in operations which have driven the gold premium up to its present high point? It is perfectly evident that unless European houses abstain from giving further assistance in that quarter the difficulties referred to must before long assume the dimensions of a serious financial crisis. Buenos Ayres will be lucky if she escapes without such a crisis even now.

The Bank to-day reported the withdrawal of £324,000 in sovereigns, £200,000 being for Lisbon and £124,000 for South America. For the week £793,000 has been taken out of the Bank for export. The Massilla from Australia has arrived with £18,100 in specie.

FOUNDERING OF TWO STEAMERS.

Hamburg, December 19th—The fears entertained yesterday of a collision having occurred in the Channel, between the British steamer Gaw Quan Sia, from Japan for Hamburg, and the Dutch steamer Leerdam, from Amsterdam for B. Ayres, two boats of which were picked up by an Ostend fishing smack, have been fully realised. The French steamer Emma, from Havre for Hamburg, which has put in at Cuxhaven, reports that the two vessels collided on Sunday night, off the Nordhinder, and sank. The Emma rescued all the passengers of the Leerdam, 400 in number, together with 25 of her crew, as well as 25 of the crew of the Gaw Quan Sia.

THE CRONIN MURDER.

VERDICT AND SENTENCES.

The jury in Chicago, after having deliberated on their verdict since the previous Friday, on Monday found the prisoners Coughlin O'Sullivan, and Burke guilty of the murder of Dr. Cronin, imposing the penalty in each case of imprisonment for life. In the case of Kunze a sentence of three year's imprisonment was fixed, while Beggs was declared not guilty. According to the law of Illinois, the jury fix the terms of punishment. It was only in the afternoon that a verdict was reached when Mr Culver, who had been voting all along for the acquittal of the prisoners, withdrew from his position and consented to a compromise. The other jurors were in favour of hanging Burke, Coughlin, and O'Sullivan; and Mr. Culver finally agreed to a sentence of imprisonment for life being passed upon them. The jury was practically unanimous in acquitting Beggs, and quickly agreed in the case of Kunze, who was found guilty of manslaughter. On hearing the Verdict Coughlin, Burke and O'Sullivan turned deathly pale, and Kunze wept; while Beggs joyfully approached the jurors, shook hands with the foreman, and thanked them. O'Sullivan also wept, whilst the least affected was Burke. Dr. Cronin's friends in Court expressed great indignation at the verdict, while the prisoners' friends expressed themselves as gratified that it was no worse. When the sentences had been pronounced Mr. Forrest moved for a new trial for the convicted men, and the hearing of the application was fixed for Jan. 13. The prisoners were then taken back to goal.

All the evidence adduced at the trial went to show that Dr. Cronin's murder was the result of a conspiracy of members of the Irish secret society known as the Cla-na-Gael.

PORTUGUESE INVASION OF BRITISH NYASSALAND.

Every one who has read Livingstone's narrative of, will remember his faithful Makololo companions. Some of these Makololo, however, did not care to return home to the swamps of Linyanti. They thought the country, along the Shiré river, which runs from Lake Nyassa to the Zambesi, was a desirable land to live in. So they settled on the right bank of the river Shiré, in the district between the Ruo and the cataracts, the native inhabitants of which had begged the Makololo to come and rule them and protect them against their enemies. They chose one of themselves to be chief, and, handful though they were, succeeded in imposing their domination upon the surrounding tribes all of whom are now known as Makololo. Moreover, fugitives from all quarters flocked for protection to these powerful chiefs; for Livingstone's influence still swayed them, and they refused to have anything to do with slavery or slave hunting. Thus, in time, a really powerful State grew up in this part of Nyassaland. All the villages and towns between the Ruo and the last cataract are Makololo. In all this country one is met with the English salutation of "Good morning", a reminiscence of their contact with the famous missionary explorer. Their perfect honesty and wonderful energy are testified to by travellers, and with the greatest good will hundreds of them lent a hand to get the first missionary steamer, Ilala, afloat on the lake. Not a nail or a rag was stolen These, then, are the people who gladly and naturally, a few months ago, accepted from our Acting-Consul Buchanan, with the approval of Mr. H. H. Johnston, the British protection; and these are the people whom, the other day, a Portuguese officer, Major Serpa Pinto, mowed down with Gatling guns because they preferred the flag of England to that of a Power of which they knew little, and that little not of a kind to commend itself to native Africans who love freedom. Communications from Quilimane in October last informed us that Major Serpa Pinto had gathered some 2,000 men, Zulus and others, armed them with Chassepôts and Martinis, and taken them up the Shiré to join another force which he had waiting on the south side of the Ruo, the limit of Portuguese dominion recognized by England. He had, moreover, a stern wheel steamer, built by Yarrow, armour-plated, and armed with Hotchkiss guns. It was hoped that after the warning which Mr. Johnston gave him Major Pinto would not proceed to extremities. Mr. Johnston told him that to attack the Makololos was to make war upon England. Major Pinto has evidently been fired by evil example. The Lisbon telegram stated that Major Pinto had attacked the Mokololo and killed 70 of them because they objected to his surveying for a railway through that territory, which by that time had the British flag waving over it. He was doubtless chafing under the consciousness that the prompt and energetic Consul had stolen a march upon him; and wreaked his reckless revenge upon the poor Makololo. Meantime let me briefly recall England's position to Nyassaland.

Until quite recent years, when the colonial fever became quite epidemic, Portugal put forth no claim to any territory beyond the Ruo, a tributory of the Shiré, some distance to the north of the Zambesi. Whatever information may have been buried in the archives of Lisbon, the maps of this region, issued officially about the time of Livingstone's expedition 30 years ago, show that only the vaguest notions existed as to Lake Nyassa, and that the origin of the Shiré River was quite unknown. Livingstone's finding of the lake was regarded as a discovery by the Portuguese themselves. Not a white subject of Portugal went near the lake for a long time after Livingstone had returned home; no interference on the part of the Portuguese Government was attempted with his operations; no sign of any official or semblance of administration was evident when Livingstone was there or has been since. Even when the expedition was at its work an English Bishop and English missionaries went out to establish themselves in the district and spread Christianity and civilization. With but little interruption for some thirty years Scotch missionaries and traders have been spreading themselves over Nyassaland, east, south and west; towns have been established, churches, schools and stores built, legitimate trade carried on, roads made, steamers placed on the lake, and the lake itself accurately surveyed; yet no sign was given till the other day by the Portuguese that they regarded these operations as a usurpation of their own administrative functions.

In the beautiful Shiré Highlands, in the country of the Makololo, the mission of the Established Church of Scotland has been at work for 12 years, its head station being named Blantyre, after Livingstone's birthplace. Stations have been planted elsewhere, and the influence of the mission extends over a great area, even as far as the country of the brave and dominant Angoni to the south-east of the Lake, where one of the missionaries and his wife were the means of stopping a bloodthirsty raid. The ground has been largely cultivated, and coffee, tea, wheat and other produce are grown. Some 80 children are boarded at the mission, and at another station is a school with 100 pupils. Besides the missionaries there is a medical man, teachers, a gardener, and general agent, all white, besides several native teachers.

No less successful has been the mission of the Free Church of Scotland, whose headquarters are at Bandawé, on the west shore, opposite Lukoma, and which has been at work for 14 years. This mission, besides the stations already mentioned has others at Chirenjé, on the Stephenson Road, between Lakes Nyassa and Tanganyika; at Malindu, on the north-east of the Livingston range; at Cape Maclear, at the south end of the Lake. At Bandawé alone some 1,300 children are attending the schools. The work of the mission on the west of the lake has been sorely tried by the Arab slave traders, whom Captain Lugard tried to beat off some time ago.

Not the least important among the civilizing agencies which Great Britain has had at work for years in this land is the African Lake Company. This comyany was constituted in 1878, not as a mere trading venture, but with the object of assisting missions in these regions, of developing the resources of the districts, and of introducing legitimate commerce as the surest and safest cure for the slave trade. Working cautiously and with moderate capital the company has gradually extended its operations, been a great help to the missionaries and kept up communications with the coast. The company will have nothing to do with the liquor traffic, and has helped greatly to keep the curse of Africa out of the country. It has three steamers, a staff of 25 Europeans, and 12 trading stations. From the head of Lake Nyassa the Stevenson Road has been engineered for about 60 miles right on the high tableland between that Lake and Tanganyika, through which a good track leads to the latter lake. On this road the Company has a station. The Company has introduced many new cultures into the country, which in time must become a source of wealth; and above all, it has shown the people the great advantages of legitimate trade over that in "black ivory" to which the brutal Arabs had accustomed them. From the two tiny coffee plants sent out from the Botanical Gardens in Edinburgh, no less than 100,000 trees have sprung and are now flourishing at the settlements of Blantyre, Mandala and Zomba Already coffee comes hence to Mincing-lane, and is pronounced of high quality.

Such, then are some of the results of British enterprise in Nyassaland during the last 25 years.

It is this work which Portugal or at least Portuguese adventurers are bent on destroying.

The question of the accessibility of Nyassaland has no bearing on the present incident. It should be remembered that the Zambesi is an international waterway, and that in time, if we hold our own, a route to Lake Nyassa will be made that will render us quite independent of Portuguese caprice.

Railway Items.

The manager of the Pacific Railway has submitted to the approval of Government the plans of Fisherton Station at kilometre 9.650.

The Rosario Railway train No. 12 struck a woman last Sunday, but only inflicted light injuries. On the following day another train of the same Company cut a man's arm completely off, as he was endeavoring to cross the line.

Dr. Araoz received a letter yesterday from the manager of the same railway, reporting a derailment on the 10th near San Nicolas. No one was hurt.

Government has decided to withdraw the subsidy it has granted to the East Argentine Railway steamers for carrying the mails in the Alto Uruguay.

The plans of the Transandino Railway between kil. 111 and 142 have been approved by Government, as also the plans presented by the Rosario Railway Company for a branch-line to Messrs. Tornquist's Sugar-Refinery.

The Inspector-General has urged Government order to be made at once these modifications to pointed out by Engineer Seidler in his report on the Chumbicha and Catamarca Railway. Mr. Seidler by the way, has also written to state that the earth along the Dean Funes Railway between kil 140 and 150 is useless; so that the cost of the earthworks in that part will be much greater, say 60 cent per cubic metre.

The La Plata Deputies met on Wednesday and did some railway-business. Mr Charles Dorado's project for a railway from Villa Elisa to La Plata Port was discussed, modified, and finally approved.

Gordon's railway-map may be had at Mr Gordon's office in calle Bolivar 365 or at Mackern and Maclean's, or at Peuser's

Telegrams from Cordoba yesterday state that trials of electric light are to be made on the Central Northern Railway.

The Reconquista Railway will be inaugurated towards the beginning of next month.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Tons of papers from Europe yesterday, but we were afraid to read half of them, lest we should catch influenza and give it to our readers. Some interesting news about the London Money Market will be found in another column.

The Provincial Bank was 68 years old yesterday, and there was a champagne and cigar jollification at which the three B's were largely represented. We were not invited; perhaps because we owe the Bank nothing. In any case, we wish it many happy returns of the day.

Nine hundred new hands have arrived by the Orione. There were forty deaths from small pox and influenza on board during the voyage. Other steamers brought 600.

The new Mayor of Rosario appears to be the right man in the right place these hard times. He proposes to shut up no fewer than twenty schools, from motives of economy; but this seems too much of a good thing. Are the children to go ignorant till the crisis is over?

Ciacchi and Ferrari have combined for the opera business this year. Whether this is good or bad news for opera-goers we are not sufficiently operatic to say. We like competition in all things.

A dreadful affair is reported from La Plata. When the market there was opened yesterday at dawn, the corpse of a man was found within with his head nearly severed from his body. The police believe that they know the murderer.

The Minister of War is going to order 45,000 "bollillas" to be made in the Artillerey Park for the municipal lottery.

The "Alhambra" which hat been so widely advertised will open its doors for the first time during the forthcoming Carnival, and the managing director, Senor Nicolas, has assured us that he will spare no expense to make it a success. We are certain that anything undertaken by Sr. Nicolas, and the well-known cateres W. H Smith and A. Dowson is bound to turn out well.

They must have a pretty big crop of cereals in San Juan this year, as the Immigation Board there wants no fewer than 2,000 hands, and cannot get them.

Referring to our remarks yesterday about Mr Negrotto's fine seaside college at Mar del Plata, the imposer left the last two words to the reader's discretion—they were "experienced Professors".

The news from Ayacucho is that they are about to build a "Palacio Muuicipal" there. The present is a nice time to think of such extravagance; but even one-horse camp towns have seemingly caught the "delirio de las grandezas."

It is announced from Montevideo that Dr. Herrera y Obes is sure of the Presidency, as he has been promised 41 votes out of 72, when 37 would suffice for him to win.

The Spanish Club at Montevideo is going in for a musical wake for the late tenor, Gayarre. Monday next will be the day.

There was a lively scare in an open Central tramcar in Plaza Once on Wednesday night. The jolting of the old rattletrap was so great that one of the lamps exploded and set fire to the beautiful blue and white curtains. The alacrity with which the passengers alighted from the car was a caution.

We much regret to hear of the death of M. Paul Ribeaumont, of the Courrier. He was one of the most brilliant writers of the Argentine press, being equally at home in the classics and "causerie," in the art of war and the arts of peace. The proverbial gaiety of his countrymen never left him, even on his death-bed: and his last article, which set the whole French population laughing, was written while he was propped up with pillows. Before taking to the pen he wielded the other weapon that helps to rule the world, and was an officer in a light cavalry regiment. Peace to his ashes.

The Cairns earldom has not lasted long. The first lord began life in a Belfast attorney's office on £60 a year, and rose to be Lord Chancellor of England. His son, now dead, was distinguished for a breach of promise suit with an actress Lord Napier of Magdala was a nobler Roman, and did the State good service. He was born in Ceylon in 1810 and entered the Corps of Bengal Engineers in 1828. He served with great distinction and became chief engineer of Bengal. At the siege of Lucnow it was he who planned the bridging of the Goomtee. He also served in China. In 1867 he commanded the expedition to rescue the Abyssinian captives, and distinguished himself by the storming of Magdala. Parliament granted him £2000 a year in recognition of his services and he was raised to the peerage. In 1878 he was selected to be commander-in-chief of the expreditinary force in the event of war with Russia.

The police case in Paseo de Julio caused much comment yesterday. Such cases are, fortunately, rare, and the Chief of Police will no doubt see that justice is done.

In spite of the crisis, we see that an item for $50,000 subvention to theatres is before the La Plata Legislature. It is monstrous to fling away the public money in this way in such hard times.

A large family Hotel, with restaurant attached, has been quietly and without ostentation opened at 358-362 Corrientes. The "Hotel Metropole," as it is called, contains 45 bedrooms besides private salas, dining rooms etc.; the marked peculiarity of the Hotel, however, is the special excellence of its sanitary arrangements, all which are of the latest English hygienic manufacture; and at the same time, inexpensive; we speak from actual inspection and can also commend the wines, the "carte" comparing favorably with that of any other hotel.

A lady, in advertising herself as a teacher, referred to the "reputation for teaching she bears."

Mazzantini, the bull-slayer, made 18,000 dollars out of his benefit in Montevideo the other day. There is evidently no crisis in Montevideo.

Letters from Mar del Plata say that the place is filling up; but solely with mammas, papas, and the girls. Eligible bachelors are scarcer than ever, and most of the girls say they are already "clean sick" of their this year's visit to the sea. An audacious reporter of a morning colleague says "the lovely creatures look very different indeed in their bathing dresses from what they appear when made up for the evening." What business is this of the reporter's? No wonder there are no bachelors.

"There," said the new lady of the castle, "are the graves of the former owner's ancestors. My ancestors," she added proudly, "are all living."

Accepted suitor—"Won't you find it awkward when you meet your other two husbands in heaven?" Interesting widow—"I don't expect to meet either of them there."

New Year's Gifts are still dropping into our grateful sanctum. Yesterday we put up in our picture gallery—one of the finest art collections south of the Line—a superb photograph of the Argentine Pavilion at the Paris Exhibition, kindly sent to us by the "Libreria del Rio de la Plata." We invite all our subscribers to call and see it. Admission free.

Our lady readers will be interested in the Lawn Tennis news from Montevideo, which runs so:—"The final of the single handicap in the Lawn Tennis Tournament was played off on Sunday, between Mr. E. M. Stanham and Mr. O. Scoones, resulting in a victory for the former with the following score, 6—3, 6—3, 7—5, 6—4. Mr Scoones takes the second prize. There now remains to be played only the open Championship. The prizes won in the above tournament were presented on Wednesday at 5 o'clock at the Cricket field. There was tea for the ladies, kindly given by the Misses Oldham."

Asuncion is a great place for "canards." The yellow fever scare here had such a repercussion in Paraguay that "8000 casos comprobados" were rumoured, and the Government at once closed the port. There seems to be a good deal of pristine innocence still left in Paraguay.

Looking for hidden treasure seems to be a craze of humanity in all climes. The subject is rather a personal and sore one with us, as we wasted the best years of our life in a fruitless attempt to get at the 70,000 gold ounces hidden by the Indians in the patio of our old office in Calle San Martin, now the headquarters of Messrs. Stiller and Laas. Alas! We never think of those ounces without a sigh. But what are 70,000 ounces to 35,000,000 of ounces buried on Cocos Island in the far Pacific and which cannot be found even by a powerful company organized in Valparaiso to look for them. Cocos Island belongs to Costa Rica, and is 600 miles from the Pacific Coast. Several expeditions have gone to look for the treasure, but failed. The only inhabitants of the island are English pigs gone wild, and gorgeous birds; the fruit is splendid. Four men have just returned to Valparaiso after digging and searching in vain for a year, during which they lived on pig and young sharks, which swarm round the island. They were thought to be lost, and a ship was sent to look them up. The secret of the treasure and map of the island was sold for ten dollars by an old man shortly before his death in Valparaiso two years ago to a German resident, who formed the company referred to. The treasure was supposed to have been buried there by pirates, who in 1826 were caught by a British cruiser and every man Jack of them was strung up to the yard arm, except the Captain's son, a mere boy, who was set free. This boy became the old man who sold the secret; and it is our well matured opinion that he "did" the German resident, and that the map and secret were a pure invention turned into ten dollars hard cash.

Stealing lamps from the halls of houses is the newest form of theft. Such little care is taken to look after open halldoors that the wonder is there are not more robberies. This city is now so crowded with all kinds of people that the patriarchal custom of leaving the hall-doors of private houses open must soon be abandoned, like too many other nice old customs. The "customers", knocking about now are not to be trusted.

The last storm at Montevideo must have been far stiffer than the roof of the Variedades Theatre there, as it was fairly beaten in by the rain and hail; the place was inundated, and the performance had to be cut short, the audience bolting for home.

The Consul-General for this Republic in Carlsruhe sends what he modestly calls his "lucubrations" to the Minister of Foreign Affairs in reference to the importation of Argentine meat into that part of Germany. Strange to say, not a man in the Grand Duchy has yet tasted an Argentine mutton chop or beefsteak; yet the Consul says that the profit to be had is much larger than that obtained on Argentine meat sent to Paris. Our great meat exporters, Nelson, Sansinena, the Drabble Company and others should send the Carlsruheers some Argentine beef and mutton to try, to see how it agrees with them.

General Boulanger lives a curious life on the Island of Jersey. He spends his time in reading history and talking politics to his followers. He smokes a vast number of cigarettes and seems inclined to disobey the commands of his physicians regarding wine. He is very punctilious as regards his dress and always dons an evening suit for dinner.

The sale of 25 fully-paid-up shares of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata, with dividend and right to the new shares paying the 10 o|o call, is reported, at 300 fuertes gold. This stock to-day is one of the best gold stocks in this market. The general meeting will be held on 27th inst., and the profits for the year shew far ahead of any previous year. The accounts for the last six months are splendid: 10 o|o gold for the half-year will be declared dividend, which will make 20 o|o gold for the year. All bad and doubtful debts are written off, and a larger sum than usual will be added to the reserve.

Don Ricardo Eastman, the well-known banking broker, who has just returned from Europe, was welcomed on 'Change; also Mr. Howard, who has also arrived from Europe, and Mr. Tait, who has come from Entre Rios.

We hear that there is a grert scarcity of articles in the import market, which sounds rather well, as last year the imports surpassed all belief, and not all our gold exchange or produce could pay for them. This year we shall have less to pay for.

In the Municipality we hear that there is an awful row impending, owing to there being a majority on the board for cutting down the expenses one-half. This is the best of good news.

Exchange continues firm at the following rates:—On London 47⅝-¾d., Paris 5.02 francs, France 5.03, Antwerp 5.04 and Genoa 5.07.

The National Hypothecary Bank will, we understand, begin at once to make new loans under the new law; that is, the Bank pays cash to the mortgagors instead of Cedulas and sells the Cedulas in London.

At the meeting of the Banco Inmobiliario shareholders, a divident of 19.80 o|o was declared for fully-paid-up shares and 1.80 o|o for the Scrip. This shews the splendid business done by the bank.

The new Committee of the Rosario Bolsa for current year is as follows:—President, Mr. B. Ledesma; members, P. L. Funes, J. Machado, D. Marguarato; substitutes, M. Allende, E. Kropf, D. Le Bas, S. Carrega, L. Idiartbord and F. Rivas.

With much pleasure we announce the re-election of Sr. Marzan to the high post of Bolsa liquidator. The right man in the right place.

The sales of the fine city property 568-78 Calle Victoria, for 305,000 m|n, is announced. Mr Sivori, as broker, buyer.

Business at the second hour embraced the sale of about a million dollars gold, between cash and dates, of which more than one-half was for end of month; rates shewed a further shrinkage, and closed weak all round. In stocks, some transactions were effected in National Bank Shares, buying for cash and selling for end of February. Constructors and Catalinas were quiet, as also Cedulas, which reflect no change in rates.

Stockholders and others will be much interested in reading the following Profit and Loss account of the Buenos Aires Insurance Company. It will be seen that the Company paid in the last half year in fire losses 113,771 Nats., but the company is doing a first rate business, is well established and the stock is one of the best Insurance stocks in the market:—

The Royal Mail packet Elbe left Montevideo to-day at 2 p.m. for this port, and brings a large consignment of specie, supposed to be over £200,000 stg. Her mails come up in the Eolo.

At the conclusion of the first hour to-morrow 500 General Credito Shares will be offered at auction.

The steamer City of Belfast arrived in Montevideo yesterday from New York with 590 tons cargo for Montevideo, 2,300 tons for Buenos Aires, and 375 tons for Rosario. She comes consigned to Shaw Bros.

The s.s. Washington left Genoa on 15th inst. for the Plate with 1000 passengers and 400 tons cargo.

Messrs. Nelson and Co. have already started building their frozen meat establishment between Berazategui and Marmol, on the line to La Plata. Two round millions of dollars will be sunk in the works, which will turn out 1,500 carcases daily, and by the end of May the building will be finished and slaughters begin. Special waggons for transporting the frozen meat to ports of shipment will be constructed. The buildings will cover more than a square.

An evening colleague announces that the news of loans having been effected either by Government or the National Bank is all moonshine. No loan, it says, has been arranged, and the National Bank will have to remain with the provincial loans it took over, just as Cordoba has to remain with her 25 million bond. This categorical denial of previous reports requires confirmation.

Mr. E. L. Schmidt, the popular money broker, and member of the well-known firm of O. Schmidt and Co., leaves for Hamburg to-morrow in the Petropolis. He took leave of his numerous friends to-day as a melancholy bachelor, but hopes to return a settled Benedict. His stay in Europe will be a brief one, as he purposes returning to the Plate within a few months.

The Royal Mail packet Elbe sails on the 21st inst. for Santos, Rio, Bahia, Pernambuco, Lisbon, Vigo, Southampton and Antwerp.

The s.s. Cordoba, Chargeurs Reunis liner, has arrived in Montevideo with 900 passengers and 1000 tons of cargo.

The River Plate Times brings the following items:—

"Muiños and Jorge sold on Sunday, on account of the Banco Constructor Oriental, 12 solares in Calles Hocquard, N. Palmira, Republica and Arenal Grande, at 4 dollars to 4 80 the vara. One lot, corner of Tala and N. Palmiro, fetched 5.50 dollars.

"The saladeristas Aguerre and Co. have sold 3000 salted ox hides, to be delivered end of January, at 6 30 dollars. H. Piñeyrúa has sold 3000 cow hides for March 15 at 5.90 dollars heavy on board. Vellozo and San Martin have sold 200 bords. ox tallow at 1 20 dollars the arroba on board.

"The subscription list to the 'Compañia Edificadora Sud Americana de Casas Economicas' will be opened at the temporary offices, 25 de Mayo 272, on the 25th instant.

"295 bags and 392 arrobas wool entered yesterday. Sales quiet. 1800 to 2000 arrobas sold in Feria at 4 dollars to 4.50 dollars fleece. Lambswool 3 dollars to 3 20.

"On Sunday J. B. Gomensoro sold 25 solares in Calles As lo Caiguá and Durazno at prices from 2 50 dols. to 3 05 dols. the vara, realising 42,600 dols., or an average of 2.70 dols. the vara."

The Diesel Brewery here has been taken up by a company with a capital of 500,000 dollars in five thousand shares. The following is the board of directors—Chairman, J. Hanspurn, F. Badaraco, P. Dencgri, C. Tomkinson, F. Arzeno, R. Sarda, E. Theobald and C. Malcerra. Vast improvements are contemplated.

The Diaro falls into a very serious error when stating that the leading grain broker, Dr. Julio Calvo, was retiring from business in Parana and Santa Fe. Such is not the case by any means, and the only shadow of truth for the rumor is the fact that Mr. Calvo has offered for rent a large "galpon" at Galves, for which he has no immediate requirement, having constructed another of like dimensions at a point more convenient to his offices.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second ring:—

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.
First Ring.............. 224.80
Second Ring............ 222.00

Friday, January 17th.

Confidence, not gold, has at last turned the market. The whole market now seems to believe in a further rapid fall in gold, and as an instance of this, we may report a large business done for February on the following terms: 100,000 dollars gold for 28th February at 220, with option to seller to deliver 300,000 dollars more at same price. In the face of a rising market, no such business would be even mooted.

Exchange ruled rather weaker to-day, and the rate on London is 47½d.; nevertheless, this weakness in exchange seemed to have no hardening effect on gold, which goes to show that something more than mere monetary rules influence the gold market.

It is not yet quite certain when the general meeting of the National Bank shareholders will be held, as the balance sheet is not yet finished. The gross profits for the year reach thirteen millions, which is, indeed, a handsome amount, but we hear nothing of the losses. We believe that the directors intend to raise the rate of discount, and put it on a parity with the rates of the principal private banks.

Fifty shares of Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata sold at three hundred fuertes gold, with right to new shares paying the call, and also the dividend. Buyers of the new scrip offer thirty m/n gold per scrip, exclusive of the ten per cent. call paid up.

Mr. E. L. Evan Thomas, of the well-known firm of Gellatly, Hankey, Sewell and Company, was welcomed on 'Change to-day. Mr. O. Budge, manager of the Eastern Argentine Railway, has returned to Concordia. Mr. Tulloch, the popular manager of the Platense steam line, will leave in March for Europe. A whole crowd of Argentine families has returned from Europe in the Italian mail steamer Vittoria.

We call attention to an article from the Financial Times, London, which we publish in another column. As usual, our London colleague takes a wrong view of the increasing business of the London and River Plate Bank and of the English Bank of the Plate, which so frightens him. A glance at the balance-sheets of both these banks is sufficient to show that the enormous increase of deposits is the basis of the great development, and it shows the high credit and standing of these banks that in one year the deposits of the London & R.P. Bank show an increase of two millions sterling. People out here who deposit their money in a bank are in a better position to judge of its solidity and standing than friends in London who know nothing of the country or of its market. The business of both these English Banks is simply splendid and growing daily, so fast that both have to enlarge their premises. We wonder what our colleague would think of the Banco de Italia on an Italian mail day; the crowd is greater than at Covent Garden on a benefit night, and yet the banking hall of this prosperous bank is down in its very cellar.

Operations in gold at the first hour were tremendously brisk, and shewed a swooping drop in the quotations, which closed at least two points under the opening rates. For cash a little over half a million changed hands, opening at 227 and falling off without a pause to 224.80, at which it closed. For to-morrow the rate opened weak at 226.80 and tumbled equally quickly and steadily as for cash, leaving off at 224 70. For end of month there was more resistance offered to the fall, the rate fluctuating between 226 and 227 for some time, finally closing at 225. In stocks there was nothing particularly new. Cedulas maintained more or less the current rates, with exception of the favourite K series, which improved from 78 to 79.50. A few National Bank Shares were marked done at 215 for end of month and 189 for end of February. Catalinas at 50 and Constructors at 84.50 for end of month. Two lots of Previsora changed hands at 95 and 99.

La Plata advices announce the granting of a Centro Agricola concession for a property of 9996 hectares in partido of Bahia Blanca.

The Immigration office has received a petition from the Sauce Corto Colony, situated on the Meeks lands in the south of the province. Many of the lots are still unoccupied and fifty families are asked for.

Our well-informed colleague La Prensa takes up the cudgels with El Nacional about the loans or advances to the National Bank and Municipality, said to have been offered by Paris and Berlin bankers. The Nacional roundly denies that there is any truth in the reports, but the Prensa says that not only are the reports correct, but that the basis of the business has been agreed upon. This is good news for the market, as, waiving all question as to the ulterior advantage of making new loans, the solid effect of gold coming into the country is too palpable to be disputed. As is already known, if the business is effected, the National Bank will receive ten million gold dollars as advance against certain securities which it holds, and the Municipality ten millions of the twenty million loan.

The meeting of the shareholders of Kidd and Company, Limited, a joint stock concern which took over the great business started and worked up by Mr. J. H. Kidd, will take place on the 22nd instant. The report to be presented to the board is most beautifully got up and printed on ribbed satin paper, showing net profits for the year 82,697 dollars. The directors propose to reduce the capital, which stands at eight hundred thousand dollars, by buying up shares so long as they can be secured at par and burning them, also by giving fully paid up shares for forty per cent. scrip, that is to say, forty fully paid up shares for every hundred forty per cent. scrip. The dividend to be declared is ten per cent.
